

GAMING GUIDE

LET IT RIDE POKER

Let it Ride is a five-card poker game played against a pay table, not the dealer or other players.

Let it Ride is played with a traditional deck of 52 cards. There are three ways to play:

Standard (Basic) Wager: Players win with a pair of 10's or better. All hands below a pair of 10's lose.

$1 Progressive Wager: Winning hands vary (please see pay table).

3 Card Bonus Wager: Players win with a pair or better using the player's 3 cards only.

To play Let it Ride, players must make three identical wagers in the circles marked ($), (2) and (1). These three wagers are referred to as the "Basic Game". Players playing the basic game may elect to make optional wagers in the "Three-Card Bonus" and/or "Let It Ride Progressive" bonus bets, explained below. The optional bets may not be made unless the player is playing the basic game.

Players each receive three cards, face down. Two community cards are dealt face down in front of the dealer. The player uses their three cards and the two community cards to form a five-card poker hand. Players have two opportunities to withdraw a Basic Game wager: after receiving their first three cards and again after the first community card is revealed. After the second community card is revealed, and player with a five-card poker hand of a Pair of 10's or higher will be paid odds.

The player's Three-Card Bonus wager will win if the player's first three cards make a Pair or better.

The player's Let it Ride Progressive wager will win if their five-card hand makes Three of a Kind or better.

Each player must always keep the cards in full view of the dealer.

All players must remain seated when handling the cards.

While any players are still acting on their hands, players may not discuss their hands.

Players may only use one hand to view their cards.
